FIRE DESTROYS BUILDINGS ON NISONGER FARM

Crops, Machinery and Barn Consumed By Early Morning Blaze.

LIVESTOCK PERISH
Farm Occupied By Earl McClellan Suffers Heavy Damage.

Crossed electric wiring in the corn crib, is thought to have been the cause of a fire, which resulted in the barn, and corn crib, containing farm machinery, crops, and cattle being entirely destroyed on the farm of Earl McClellan, on the Upper Bellbrook pike, at 5 o'clock, Thursday morning.

The fire when discovered at 4:45 had consumed the entire corn crib, and the barn, which was a short distance from the crib, had also taken fire.

Four horses, a number of hogs and other live stock, met death in the flames. The contents of the barn including 700 bushels of corn on the main floor, and 2,000 bushels of corn in the crib, two silos, and all of the machinery of the farm including a tractor were destroyed.

Flames were fought by neighbors until the arrival of the fire department. The barn was reported still burning at 7:30 o'clock.

The amount of the loss has not been estimated. The barn which was entirely destroyed, was partially covered with insurance, amounting to $2,500.

Neighbors Discover Blaze.

The fire was discovered by neighbors on the adjoining farms, who aroused members of the McClellan family, who with a garden hose attempted to extinguish the flames. Little headway was gained until the arrival of the fire department.

The fire department arrived at 7:30, and found that nothing could be saved since the flames were rapidly consuming both the crib and the barn. Another difficulty confronted the department, when it was discovered that the only water to be found to fight the flames was from a cistern to which the hose of the department could not be attached.

The entire stock of farm machinery of Mr. McClellan was destroyed including a tractor, a corn husker, binder and reaper.

The only live stock to escape were five horses, which were badly burned, and perhaps will have to be killed. Among others meeting death in the flames were three milch cows, and six or eight hogs.

The McClellan farm is familiarly known as the Nisonger farm and is owned by Mr. F. P. Hastings, father of Mrs. McClellan. The farm and live stock were rated among the finest in the county.

WOMAN DESCRIBES BATTLE IN MATEWAN

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamson, W. Va., Feb. 17.—An elderly woman witness kneeled down in front of the witness stand today and, using a curtain rod as a "gun" gave a striking illustration of person in the act of shooting. She aimed straight at the jury. At her feet was the relief map of Matewan, showing the scene of the gun battle which led to the murder trial of 19 men now in progress.

The witness, Mrs. Martha Hogkins, of Matewan, a teacher, had been using the rod to point out places on the relief map. She was in the kitchen of a house near the scene of the battle. A bullet smashed the kitchen window, scattering the glass over her. She testified to seeing a crowd of armed men rushing down the street. She saw six of the defendants in the crowd. Some of them had rifles. "Bill" Overstreet was "in a shooting position," she said.

Article Says Official Circles See Trouble Because France Will Refuse To Change Paris Agreement in German War Indemnity.

Paris, Feb. 17.—Although both Premier Lloyd George and Premier Briand have emphasized the solidarity and unity of England and France since the supreme council meeting the Echo De Paris, a newspaper with official sources of information today hinted at a break.

"Official circles foresee a break at London because France will refuse to change the Paris agreement on German war indemnity," said this newspaper.

BOLSHEVISTS PLAN REVOLUTION FOR EUROPEAN NATIONS

Belgian Police Unearth
Evidence of Widespread Plot.

London, Feb. 17.—Evidence that a bolshevik revolution has been planned for France, Holland, Belgium and Germany has been found by the Belgian police, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Brussels to-day. The dispatch said:

"Belgian police, in searching the homes of communists found documents in which was contained an order from Moscow for plans to launch a huge revolutionary movement in a few weeks in France, Belgium, Germany and Holland."

FIRST MOVE MADE BY GERMANY ON ALLIED INDEMNITY

London, Feb. 17—Germany made her first move today in an effort to ameliorate the allies' war indemnity decision. Proposals that were worked out over the week end were sent to Paris. It is said that Germany contends that the discrepancy between her national revenues and expenditures shows the impossibility of meeting the allies' demands. However, the promise is given that the German government will continue to increase its contributions.

The witness, Mrs. Martha Hogkins, of Matewan, a teacher, had been using the rod to point out places on the relief map. She was in the kitchen of a house near the scene of the battle. A bullet smashed the kitchen window, scattering the glass over her. She testified to seeing a crowd of armed men rushing down the street. She saw six of the defendants in the crowd. Article Says Official Circles See Trouble Because France Will Refuse To Change Paris Agreement in German War Indemnity.

Paris, Feb. 17.—Although both Premier Lloyd George and Premier Briand have emphasized the solidarity and unity of England and France since the supreme council meeting the Echo De Paris proposed that if Germany rebelled against paying $56,000,000,000 and a 12 1/2 percent export tax that England take over German customs stations and France occupy German industrial cities.

The French socialist newspaper Humanite expressed the belief that the oriental conference in London next week will not result in any decisive decisions.

SETTLEMENT OF WAGE TROUBLES OF RAILS URGED

Labor Chief Addresses Request To Railway Labor Board.

Jewell Presents Rebuttal To Claims of P. R. R. Vice President.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Immediate settlement of all railway wage controversies outstanding before the United States railway labor board by a joint conference of railroad representatives and labor representatives to be held at the earliest possible moment was urged before the board today in a statement by B. M. Jewell, president of railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor. Jewell's statement presented in rebuttal to the claims of W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, that the country faces a national crisis unless the national wage agreements are abrogated also recommended that the railway labor board pass immediately upon any difficulties of opinion which might arise from the conference.

Jewell recommended also that the board request Atterbury to withhold his announced presentation of "a flood of individual complaint" until the conference could be arranged "in order that existing general agreements may not be impaired and that the matter can be brought to the board in the form of a single complaint."

The labor representative will delay in arriving at a final decision in the controversy squarely up to the railroads in stating that "if the carriers had obeyed the law and met the employees in national conference or joined with them in establishing boards of adjustment all delay could have been avoided."

POLICE SEE LIGHT IN BANK ROBBERY AFTER GUN FIGHT

Investigation Now Under Way Following Saloon Mix-up.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Investigations that the police believe may solve the recent $60,000 Kenwood bank robbery, are underway today in connection with the shooting of Policeman T. F. Powers by policeman Peter Henzie during a quarrel in a saloon. A money belt containing $1,800 said to be a part of the loot taken from the Kenwood bank was found on Powers' body.

Powers and four companions were in a saloon when Henzie entered. Henzie was off duty and Powers was on sick furlough. Powers and his companions are said to have started taunting Henzie with being a "stoof" and with having made reports to his superior officers that reflected on Powers.

Henzie left the saloon by a side door as Powers and his companions went out the front door. Henzie declared that one of Powers' associates followed him and struck him and that he saw Powers tugging to get a gun out of his pocket. Henzie beat Powers "to the draw" and shot him dead.

The doctors attending Caruso admitted they have done about everything known to science to save the tenor's life. If he lives it is admitted that it will be mainly because of his determination to do so. The tenor during the night, when priests again attended him, expressed himself as determined not to die.

Mrs. Caruso, the singer's wife, is almost constantly at his bedside. She has had but little rest since her husband's collapse Tuesday night.

SEVERS CONNECTION OF 35 YEARS WITH COUNTY FAIR BOARD

Rankin R. Grieve, who resigned as secretary of the Greene County Fair Board at a recent meeting, severed an association of 35 years with the board by that action.

Mr. Grieve handed in his resignation because he felt that he could not give the time needed to the work from his business. He was for a time assistant to the late Hugh McQuiston when he was secretary of the board, and succeeded Mr. McQuiston 35 years ago, since occupying the position of secretary.

In the 35 years he has had charge as secretary, the annual Fair has grown with rapid strides. Much work is connected with the Secretary's position as he has charge of the concessions, and all the correspondence incidental to securing the attractions for the annual event.

Mr. Grieve has been succeeded by J. Robert Bryson, who has been associated in the fair work for some time, and whose father, W. B. Bryson has long been a member of the board. Mr. Bryson has taken over the work and is already busy with the arrangements for next summer's fair.

Church, will leave February 19, for New York, whence he will sail on the Aquitania for Rhodesia. Central Africa, as engineer-missionary for the Methodist Church. He expects to remain five years. The Woman's Missionary Society and the Ladies Aid Society of the First Baptist Church held a joint meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. E. Arbogast on North King street.

The main feature of the meeting was the business session of the two societies at which a collection was taken to go into the church repair fund which the societies hold. In addition to the regular collection a dollar donation was made from each member for additional needs of the church.

SEVERS CONNECTION OF 35 YEARS WITH COUNTY FAIR BOARD

Rankin R. Grieve, who resigned as secretary of the Greene County Fair Board at a recent meeting, severed an association of 35 years with the board by that action.

Mr. Grieve handed in his resignation because he felt that he could not give the time needed to the work from his business. He was for a time assistant to the late Hugh McQuiston when he was secretary of the board, and succeeded Mr. McQuiston 35 years ago, since occupying the position of secretary.

In the 35 years he has had charge as secretary, the annual Fair has grown with rapid strides. Much work is connected with the Secretary's position as he has charge of the concessions, and all the correspondence incidental to securing the attractions for the annual event.

Mr. Grieve has been succeeded by J. Robert Bryson, who has been associated in the fair work for some time, and whose father, W. B. Bryson has long been a member of the board. Mr. Bryson has taken over the work and is already busy with the arrangements for next summer's fair.

PROSTATE GLAND TROUBLES SHOULD HAVE IMMEDIATE ATTENTION

Ends Quickly When Gland Pine Is Used

Easily and Quickly Made at Home

Watch the symptoms was Dr. Carey's advice. The tiniest signals often indicate that the kidneys are ailing and need attention. Dry skin for instance, and little specks floating before the eyes. Sometimes the feet feel heavy as if your shoes were full of lead. Often the joints ache or you have quick, darting pains shooting through the back or side. Then again that frequent desire to empty the bladder, cold, clammy feet and just a little puffiness under the eyes. Occasionally the hands or feet swell slightly and the palms of the hands are moist. Don't neglect them—you cannot afford to take any chances with your kidneys.

If you ever have the faintest suspicion that your kidneys are weak or your bladder is irritated the wisest thing you can do is to get a bottle of Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription No. 777 at once. Many thousands of cases could have been conquered by Marshroot if taken in time.

Hereafter you can always get this effective prescription at Sayer and Hemphill and all reliable

APPROVE FINDING AGAINST PROPERTY REAPPRAISAL HERE

In a resolution passed by the Board of County Commissioners, the finding of County Auditor R. O. Wead against the reappraisal of property in this county this year, was approved.

The report of the Auditor was submitted to the Board some time ago, urging that because of inflated values of real estate now, that the reappraisal be postponed until a later date. In the resolution the board adopted the finding of the Auditor and resolved that there will be no reappraisal in Greene County this year, awaiting action of the State taxation commission.

The Commission recently postponed decision in the matter until March 1, and the expression of Governor Harry L. Davis, that he favored abandonment of the appraisal plan for this year, is thought locally to mean that the plan will not be carried out at least in 1921.

Is It Yours?

THOMAS MALTHUS
February 17, 1766.

The great English economist, Thomas Robert Malthus, was born on a small estate in Surrey, England. His father was a man of good family and independent fortune and a man of great culture, who gave his son every possible educational advantage. Thomas Malthus went to Cambridge, studied for the ministry and took charge of a small parish near his home. He was about 32 years old when he published the first edition of his great work, "An ESSAY ON THE PRINCIPLE OF POPULATION."

This work created a great deal of surprise and started an enormous amount of argument. With characteristic thoroughness Malthus decided to prove his theory in greater detail than he had given it, so he spent several years abroad studying in different countries and every new edition of his essay came out with more notes and more valuable matter. His theory was that a happy state of society will always be hindered by the misery of poorer people, due to the tendency of population to increase faster than the means of feeding it. It was such a new idea that every thinker turned his attention to either for or against it. In the last years, the general opinion has been that it is not true. Malthus married when he was 39 and became a professor of modern history and political economy. His private life was very happy and he was personally much loved. He died suddenly of heart disease in 1834.

SAYS HIS PRESCRIPTION HAS POWERFUL INFLUENCE OVER RHEUMATISM

Mr. James H. Aiken who suffered for many years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided after years of research studies that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspaper. Baye & Hemphill have been appointed agents for Allenhurst in this vicinity with the purchase money to all who state they received no benefit.

CEDARVILLE COLLEGE PLANS EXTENSION OF ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

Foundations for greater and more extensive athletic activities at Cedarville College, were laid at a banquet held in the basement of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in Cedarville, Tuesday evening.

There were covers for 100 at the chicken dinner served by members of the Ladies' Advisory Board of the College, including among the guests, Cedarville business men, alumni and present students, who are interested in seeing the College increase its scope of athletic activities.

Plans formulated at the meeting include the institution of sports that are not now practiced at the school, either through having been abandoned, or never taken up by the students, and the retention of an experienced athletic adviser and coach. The program promises that the Cedarville school, which it is realized, has been putting mediocre teams in the field, will broaden out into a school able to cope with the athletes of other institutions its size, to increase its enrollment by offering such athletic training to its students, and to give all the students, both boys and girls, the advantage of such training.

For the purpose of carrying out these plans, an executive committee has been appointed consisting of Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of the College, as chairman; Prof. Parker superintendent of the Cedarville schools, secretary, O. S. Smith, treasurer, Walter Hiff, Andrew Winter, John Johnson and LaClede Markle, a student. This committee will direct a campaign to provide funds to carry out the athletic program decided upon, and obtain a good physical director and coach to handle athletics at the school starting with the next fall semester, whose duty it will be to insure some physical training for all students.

LaClede Markle, was toastmaster at the banquet held, and a program consisting of readings by Miss Marjorie McClellan and Miss Helen Bradfute and musical selections by a quartet consisting of LaClede Markle, Carl Duncan, Morton Cresswell and Harry Wright, entertained during the early part of the evening. Speeches bearing on the plan of athletic broadening, were made by Rev. V. E. Busler, pastor of the Cedarville M. E. Church, Prof. Allen of the College faculty, Wilbur White a student, and Morton Cresswell and S. C. Wright representing the alumni.

CANDIES FOR FUDGE PARTIES

Bran Balls—When a child will not eat bran as a breakfast food, make this following candy: Two cups light brown sugar, butter, one-half cup water. Boil till it forms a clean ball in water. Let stand till cool, then add a half box of crumbled bran, cream it and drop off spoon.

Cinnamon Rolls—Four cups of granulated sugar, one and one-half cups milk, butter size of walnut, three tablespoons of white syrup. Boil until it forms a soft ball in water, or 240 degrees Fahrenheit. Set off stove and let cool, then stir until you can't stir any longer. Then knead it in long pieces, roll in cinnamon and sugar in pieces. Nuts may be added if desired. This makes two pounds of delicious candy.

Divinity Kisses—Boil two cups of sugar with one cup of water until the soft ball stage, then add the grated rind and strained juice of one lemon, two table spoons of gelatine, which has been soaking in one-quarter cup of cold water for five minutes, then pour over the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Beat up until light and it begins to harden. Drop from a spoon on greased paper.

REMEMBER

To dress a mantel choose ornaments that will harmonize with one another in scale, form and color and arrange them to produce an effect of perfect balance.

A coating of pure linseed oil will lengthen the life of willow furniture.

Keep your house clear of rubbish and keep disease germs down.

Koumyss is often given when the invalid dislikes plain milk and with equally good results.

The kitchen should be frequently flooded with fresh air. You can work faster and with more ease in a well ventilated room.

You must however, eat less in order to reduce—at least you must eliminate the fattening foods. I will send you a list of these, if you will write me a letter with self-addressed stamped envelope enclosed. The reduction diet will also clear your skin of eruptions.

The Darky Kids—It is very difficult to bleach a naturally dark complexion. The mild skin bleaches sometimes advised in this column are all helpful. These are the honey almond lotion and cucumber or peroxide cold creams.

Bernice—A very large bust usually means that the whole body is too stout. In this case a general reduction is all you need.

Yours sincerely,
Mrs. R. H. I. would not advise you to take medicines to reduce. Since you are getting fat, you must be eating too much. It is natural that you should grow stout this year on the same amount of food which last year did not produce flesh. This is because the operation you went through has improved your health so that you get more nourishment from your food.

marshmallow, being careful not to make a hole quite through it. Fill the cavities thus formed with any good preserved fruit. Make a chocolate fudge and pour it over the marshmallows, which should have been placed on a greased paper in a pan. Be sure the fruit is entirely covered. When cold cut in cakes. These are delicious and will prove an agreeable surprise.

Vanilla Caramels—Place in a saucepan one cup granulated sugar, one-half cup golden corn syrup. Bring to a boil and add two tablespoons of butter. When nearly done add one square of chocolate. Boil to hard ball stage, then flavor with one spoonful of vanilla. Pour in a square tin about an inch thick. Marlin in squares when still warm and cut in cubes when cold.

Maple Foam—Take two cups of maple sugar, one cup brown sugar, one-half cup of water and one-quarter teaspoon cream of tartar. Boil to the hard ball stage, then add a dozen marshmallows cut up in bits. Cover and let stand for five minutes, then pour over the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Beat up until light and it begins to harden. Drop from a spoon on greased paper.

VOTE SOUGHT ON PACKER BILL

Washington, Feb. 17.—In an effort to obtain a vote in the house on the packer control bill, proponents of the measure decided to petition the rules committee to call it upon the floor before the end of the session. Petitions were put in a circulation among the state delegations. It was considered doubtful whether such action would sway the rules committee.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

A NEW ACQUAINTANCE

We had gradually formed a few acquaintances. Among them was a woman who had a bungalow near us—a fascinating, temperamental sort of creature, who attracted and repelled me at the same time. She was taught Junior to call her aunt—Aunt Nita. Her name was Juanita, and before long we both called her so, and she called us Nan and Dick.

Sometimes when she would come over after dinner in some trailing gown that made her even more lovely, I would feel rather out of place in my simple house dress. Then the thought of what clothes had once done to me would make me satisfied again and I would put aside the slightest envious feeling. She could afford to wear those lovely perishable things, I couldn't! So I would dismiss all thoughts of the sort, and notice how admirably Dick looked at her.

I must have been blind, blind and stupid. Yet I never noted anything in her actions, or in Dick's, to cause me to fear she was becoming anything more than a writer-friend to him. Neither did I realize, because I did not know anything about it, how people who do things, people of temperament, especially artists and writers, are swayed by their emotions.

Dick seemed to be interested in her, but I laid it all to their similarity of occupation, although she told me she had an income sufficient for her wants had she not sold anything from her pen.

At times they would take long walks. Sometimes I went along, but often they went alone, leaving me busily with her bungalow.

Not a thought of danger in this intimacy entered my mind, not a doubt of Dick's loyalty. Had we known more people, gone out more often, I might have been wakened. But it seemed to me only natural that they were so fond of Juanita.

Dick never failed to ask me to accompany them, was even more scrupulously careful to defer to me, should be interested in each other's work. I never put it on a personal basis.

"You two scribblers run along and make up stories, while you get the air," I often said, and they would go away together, perhaps to be gone for hours.

But when they returned, they invariably told me where they had been talking of their time together so naturally, taking my interest so for granted, that I never had the slightest suspicion that I was putting temptation in Dick's way—that he was becoming too fond of Juanita for my happiness.

Yet Dick was only human. And Juanita was very lovely, very fascinating.

TOMORROW—Juanita Plans to Give a House-Warming.

COUGHS, CHEST COLDS, CROUP, SORE THROAT

You will never know how quickly a cough or cold can be relieved until you have used Glandol Pine, a highly concentrated cough compound which you get from your druggist. You add to it enough syrup or honey to make a pint and you have a family supply of the best cough medicine you ever used. One or two doses usually ends the croaky cough. Sore throat, throat tickle, bronchial asthma and hoarseness all yield quickly to Glandol Pine. It is pleasant to take. Besides containing Pine, it has several other valuable ingredients which act upon the membrane that lines the throat and bronchial tubes. Don't risk being without this valuable cough remedy in the home. Three ounces (60 cents worth) of Glandol Pine makes a full pint. Directions for preparing go with each bottle. Made only by the Glandol-Aid Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

FIRE DESTROYS BUILDINGS ON NISONGER FARM

Crops, Machinery and Barn Consumed By Early Morning Blaze.

LIVESTOCK PERISH Farm Occupied By Earl McClellan Suffers Heavy Damage.

Crossed electric wiring in the corn crib, is thought to have been the cause of a fire, which resulted in the barn, and corn crib, containing farm machinery, crops, and cattle being entirely destroyed on the farm of Earl McClellan, on the Upper Bellbrook pike, at 5 o'clock, Thursday morning.

The fire when discovered at 4:45 had consumed the entire corn crib, and the barn, which was a short distance from the crib, had also taken fire.

Four horses, a number of hogs and other live stock, met death in the flames. The contents of the barn including 700 bushels of corn on the main floor, and 2,000 bushels of corn in the crib, two silos, and all of the machinery of the farm including a tractor were destroyed.

Flames were fought by neighbors until the arrival of the fire department. The barn was reported still burning at 7:30 o'clock.

The amount of the loss has not been estimated. The barn which was entirely destroyed, was partially covered with insurance, amounting to $2,500.

Neighbors Discover Blaze.

The fire was discovered by neighbors on the adjoining farms, who aroused members of the McClellan family, who with a garden hose attempted to extinguish the flames. Little headway was gained until the arrival of the fire department.

The fire department arrived at 7:30, and found that nothing could be saved since the flames were rapidly consuming both the crib and the barn. Another difficulty confronted the department, when it was discovered that the only water to be found to fight the flames was from a cistern to which the hose of the department could not be attached.

The entire stock of farm machinery of Mr. McClellan was destroyed including a tractor, a corn husker, binder and reaper.

The only live stock to escape were five horses, which were badly burned, and perhaps will have to be killed. Among others meeting death in the flames were three milk cows, and six or eight hogs.

The McClellan farm is familiarly known as the Nisonger farm and is owned by Mr. F. P. Hastings, father of Mrs. McClellan. The farm and live stock were rated among the finest in the county.

WOMAN DESCRIBES BATTLE IN MATEWAN

Mingo County Courthouse, Williamston, W. Va., Feb. 17.—An elderly woman witness kneeled down in front of the witness stand today and, using a curtain rod as a "gun" gave a striking illustration of a person in the act of shooting. She aimed straight at the jury. At her feet was the relief map of Matewan, showing the scene of the gun battle which led to the murder trial of 19 men now in prison.

The witness, Mrs. Martha Hoskirk, a teacher, had been using the rod to point out places on the relief map. She was in the kitchen of a house near the scene of the battle. A bullet smashed the kitchen window, scattering the glass over her. She testified to seeing a crowd of armed men rushing down the street. She saw six of the defendants in the crowd. Some of them had rifles. "Bill" Overstreet was "in a shooting position," she said.

Ralph M. Davis, of Morocco, Ind., treasurer of the Farm Bureau of Newton County, Ind., was arrested in Chicago on a charge of embezzlement. Davis according to reports, also faces the charge of the alleged murder of his father and mother. Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis, aged father and mother of the prisoner, were burned to death in their home near Revere, Ind., early the morning of January 21. Alleged suspicious circumstances were investigated by County Prosecutor J. C. Smith and Sheriff Earl Gardner. When the Grand Jury met they presented what evidence they had, with the result that three indictments were returned against young Davis. One of these was for embezzlement from the farm bureau, it is said and it was on this charge that he was arrested in Chicago, where he had taken employment as an assistant bookkeeper. Davis is thirty-four years old. The case has aroused tremendous interest throughout the middle west.

Belgian Police Unearth Evidence of Widespread Plot.

London, Feb. 17.—Evidence that a bolshevik revolution has been planned for France, Holland, Belgium and Germany has been found by the Belgian police, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Brussels to-day. The dispatch said:

"Belgian police, in searching the homes of communists found documents in which was contained an order from Moscow for plans to launch a huge revolutionary movement in a few weeks in France, Belgium, Germany and Holland."

FIRST MOVE MADE BY GERMANY ON ALLIED INDEMNITY

London, Feb. 17—Germany made her first move today in an effort to ameliorate the allies' war indemnity decision. Proposals that were worked out over the week end were sent to Paris. It is said that Germany contends that the discrepancy between her national revenues and expenditures shows the impossibility of meeting the allies demands. However, the promise is given that the German government will continue to increase taxes.

The entente officials are most hopeful that the Germans will adopt a "comparative" attitude and that an agreement will be reached when the reparations conference opens here next month.

FRENCH PAPER HINTS AT BREAK BETWEEN ENGLAND AND FRANCE OVER GERMAN POLICY

Article Says Official Circles See Trouble Because France Will Refuse To Change Paris Agreement in German War Indemnity.

Paris, Feb. 17.—Although both Premier Lloyd George and Premier Briand have emphasized the solidarity and unity of England and France since the supreme council meeting the Echo De Paris, a newspaper with official sources of information today hinted at a break.

"Official circles foresee a break at London because France will refuse to change the Paris agreement on German war indemnity," said this newspaper.

SETTLEMENT OF WAGE TROUBLES OF RAILS URGED

Labor Chief Addresses Request To Railway Labor Board.

SCORES ATTERBURY

Jewell Presents Rebuttal To Claims of P. R. R. Vice President.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Immediate settlement of all railway wage controversies outstanding before the United States railway labor board by a joint conference of railroad representatives and labor representatives to be held at the earliest possible moment was urged before the board today in a statement by B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor. Jewell's statement presented in rebuttal to the claims of W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, that the country faces a national crisis unless the national wage agreements are abrogated also recommended that the railway labor board pass immediately upon any difficulties of opinion which might arise from the conference.

Jewell recommended also that the board request Atterbury to withhold his announced presentation of "a flood of individual complaints" until the conference could be arranged "in order that existing general agreements may not be impaired and that the matter can be brought to the board in the form of a single complaint."

The labor representative put the delay in arriving at a final decision in the controversy squarely up to the railroads in stating that "if the carriers had obeyed the law and met the employees in national conference or joined with them in establishing boards of adjustment all delay could have been avoided."

POLICE SEE LIGHT IN BANK ROBBERY AFTER GUN FIGHT

Investigation Now Under Way Following Saloon Mix-up.

Chicago, Feb. 17.—Investigations that the police believe may solve the recent $60,000 Kenwood bank robbery, are under way today in connection with the shooting of Policeman T. F. Powers by policeman Peter Henzie during a quarrel in a saloon. A money belt containing $1,800 said to be a part of the loot taken from the Kenwood bank was found on Powers' body.

Powers and four companions were in a saloon when Henzie entered. Henzie was off duty and Powers was on sick furlough. Powers and his companions are said to have started taunting Henzie with being a "stoof" and with having made reports to his superior officers that reflected on Powers.

Henzie left the saloon by a side door as Powers and his companions went out the front door. Henzie declared that one of Powers' associates followed him and struck him and that he saw Powers tugging to get a gun out of his pocket. Henzie beat Powers "to the draw" and shot him dead.

Temporary Taxation Plan For Ohio Passed By House

Griswold and Taft Bills Now Go To Senate—Governor Davis Continues Conference With Citizens' Committee In Taxation.

Columbus, O., Feb. 17.—Without an opposing vote, the house adopted the Griswold resolution, proposing an amendment to the state constitution providing for debt limitation, and passed the Griswold bill, limiting bonded indebtedness, and the Taft bill permitting taxing districts to suspend the Smith one percent tax law for three years, by vote of the people.

These measures now go to the senate. They form part of the temporary program.

Gov. Davis and his special committee of citizens, representing the business and rural interests and the general public, are continuing their sessions, in an effort to determine upon recommendations to be made to the legislature relative to enactment of a permanent taxation system.

The governor has appointed W. S. Thomas, Springfield, in place of William Cooper Proctor, Cincinnati, as a member of the citizens' committee. Proctor was unable to serve.

Three mine bills have passed the house: By Jones, Meigs county, providing for five additional mine inspectors; by King, Perry county, providing penalty for failure to install wash rooms in mines and by Chadwell, Jefferson, requiring installation of telephone system in mines.

The house, also passed the Hastings bill regulating employment of strike-breakers. The bill provides that during strikes, or lockouts, firms must state in their ads for men the nature of the labor trouble, and define the work to be done. The bill prohibits employment of minors in such cases without written consent of parents. All these measures go to the Senate, except the Jones and King bills which having passed the Senate, go to the governor.

Rep. Butterworth, Cincinnati, introduced a bill requiring common carriers to carry pupils to and from school at half fare. Senator Brandt, Champaign county, presented a bill fixing weights of bread loaves at 1-2 pound, pound, 1-1 1/2 pounds or multiples of halves and requiring that each loaf contain 60 percent solids.

Steubenville, O., Feb. 17.—At a church nursery, in charge of volunteers for the benefit of mothers desiring to attend the evangelistic meetings conducted by Bob Jones, who denounces moving pictures as one of the degenerating influences of the age at least two women have been leaving their children and going to moving picture theatres instead of the tabernacle meetings. The women in charge of the nursery were left with the children long after the tabernacle services were over.

Patience ceasing to be a virtue, the pastor of the church was notified and put a ban upon those particular mothers.

EFFECT ESCAPE IN AUTOMOBILE AFTER ROBBERY

Five Men Hold Clerks at Bay With Guns Early Thursday.

BIG HAUL MADE

Sheriff Estimates Loss at Between $300,000 and $400,000.

Toledo, O., Feb. 17.—Five bandits drove up to the postoffice at 2 o'clock this morning and held up the clerks at the point of revolvers seized six sacks of registered mail and made their escape. The value of the contents of the sacks could not be estimated at an early hour this morning.

A postoffice truck had just arrived from the Union Station with a load of mail from the east and had finished unloading the truck when the bandits car drove up to the Fourteenth street entrance and robbers covered the clerks. The bandit car was pursued for some distance but succeeded in escaping. Sheriff Taylor has surrounded several resorts at Point Place, north of this city, in one of which the robbers are believed to be hiding.

Postmaster George W. Lothrop at 9 o'clock this morning told the International News Service that any estimate of the value of the mail stolen was impossible at this time. "Any figures could be only somebody's 'pipe dream,'" he asserted.

Inspectors Aids in Hunt

Chief Postoffice Inspector Diskin of Cincinnati, in charge of a corps of inspectors, is assisting Sheriff Taylor and city police in running down clues.

Immediately after the robbery, a watchman at the postoffice jumped in one of the government trucks and attempted to follow the bandit car.

Owing to the fact that he could not make much speed he lost his trail in less than two blocks.

The car used by the bandits was recovered by Sheriff Peters this morning. It was a Studebaker, bearing an Ohio license number which had been stolen from a local garage Wednesday.

"We have a line on where the bandits are," said the sheriff this morning, "but we are not giving out any tips until we have the men under arrest."

Early tips pointing to Point Place as the bandits' hiding place proved worthless. A search of resorts there failed to result in any arrest.

The sheriff estimated the value of the loot at between $300,000 and $400,000.

Of course you've heard the story of Larry McDuff who was late getting to school one very slippery morning, and who explained by saying that for every step forward he slipped back TWO.

"Then how did you manage to get here at all?" asked his teacher.

"Why" replied Larry, "I just turned around and went the other way."

That's what the cost of clothing is doing right now and has been doing for the last three months—it's turning around and going the other way—and this store is turning with it—and returning every possible advantage to its customers.

ANDREW CARNEGIE'S HEROIC MOTHER, WHO BOUND SHOES TO MAKE $4 PER WEEK TO HELP THE FAMILY.

With the public life and much of the business life of Andrew Carnegie the ironmaster, who rose from a poverty-bitten childhood to be one of America's richest men, making and giving away hundreds of millions of dollars, the world is more or less familiar. The story of steel is Carnegie's story and his philanthropic gifts and munificent endowments have made his name a household word. Not so well known is that period of his life when, an immigrant boy in a new and strange country, he faced the world of opportunity and, guided by his canny judgment and decision, made it yield him, penny by penny, the foundations of his colossal fortune. No part of his lately published "Autobiography" (Houghton-Mifflin Company) is so fascinating in human interest or so stimulative to youthful emulation as that which deals with "Andy" Carnegie's dogged fight, supplemented by that of a heroic mother and loving father, to get his feet planted in the way of success. Here in his own words is the story.

With the introduction and improvement of steam machinery, trade grew worse and worse in Dunfermline for the small manufacturers, and at last a letter was written to my mother's two sisters in Pittsburgh stating that the idea of our going to them was seriously entertained—not, as I remember my parents saying, to benefit their own condition, but for the sake of their two young sons. Satisfactory letters were received in reply. The decision was taken to sell the looms and furniture by auction. The proceeds of the sale were most disappointing. The looms brought hardly anything, and the result was that £20 more was needed to enable the family to pay passage to America. Here let me record an act of friendship performed by a lifelong companion of my mother, Mrs. Henderson. She boldly ventured to advance the needful £20, my uncles, Lauder and Morrison, guaranteeing repayment. Lauder also lent his aid and advice, managing all the details for us, and May 17, 1848, we left Dunfermline. My father's age was then 43, my mother's 33. I was in my thirteenth year. I had left school forever, with the exception of one winter's night schooling in America.

We took up our residence in Allegheny City. A brother of my Uncle Hogan had built a small weaver's shop at the back end of a lot in Rebecca street. This had a second story, in which there were two rooms, and it was in these that my parents began housekeeping. My uncle soon gave up weaving and my father took his place and began making table cloths, which he had not only to weave, but afterwards to travel and sell, as no dealers could be found to take them in quantity. He was compelled to market them, selling from door to door. The returns were meager in the extreme. As usual, my mother came to the rescue. There was no keeping her down. In her youth she had learned to bind shoes in her father's business for pin money, and the skill then acquired was now turned to account for the benefit of the family. Work was obtained and, in addition to attending to her household duties, this wonderful woman, my mother, earned $4 a week by binding shoes. Midnight would often find her at work.

My father found it necessary to give up hand-loom weaving and to enter the cotton factory of Mr. Blackstock, an old Scotsman in Allegheny City, where we lived. In this factory he also obtained for me a position as bobbin boy and my first work was done there at $1.25 a week. It was a hard life. In the winter father and I had to arise and breakfast in the darkness, reach the factory before it was daylight and, with a short interval for lunch, work till after dark. The hours hung heavily upon me and in the work itself I took no pleasure, only as it gave me the feeling that I was doing something for my world—our family. I have made millions since, but none of those millions gave me such happiness as my first week's earnings.

ENGLAND'S MOST BEAUTIFUL ACTRESS IS PLANNING TO VISIT THIS COUNTRY

Gladys Cooper.

According to many artistic authorities, Gladys Cooper is the most beautiful actress in England. She is typically English with fair hair, blue eyes and a lovely pink and white complexion. She is said to somewhat resemble Justine Johnstone, the American beauty. Rumor has it that Miss Cooper is to come to America. If so, there will be an opportunity for comparison. In private life Miss Cooper is Mrs. Buckmaster, daughter-in-law of Lord Buckmaster. She is the mother of a charming little daughter, Joan.

From Xenia the line will be run to Jamestown, Washington, C. H. and Columbus.

The Xenia bowling alley is a thing of the past. It has been moved off of Green street, to another town. The fad was of short duration in this city.

An effort will shortly be made to open up a new street leading from Chestnut street to Detroit street. Mr. Thomas Owens owns a 12-foot alley which he will sell to the city and by purchasing 12 feet more from Ernest Shepherd a 24-foot street can be made. It is now in the hands of the street committee which will make an effort to purchase the property.

The Business Men's Association has under its consideration the proposition of a mittens and glove factory which desires to locate in this city, if a stock company can be found for the enlargement of the business. The factory is now located in Cincinnati, and is in successful running order, the making of gloves and ticking mittens being carried on. A committee, consisting of Messrs. F. B. Drees, R. S. Kingsbury and Herbert Davis has been appointed to investigate the proposition.

TIME DOESN'T DRAG FOR THREE WOMEN LOED UP AS MURDER TRIAL JURORS

The three women members of the McGannon jury. Left to right: Mrs. Hazel McGlynn, Mrs. Rose Bayne and Mrs. Zuleika Allen. Below, Judge William H. McGannon, on trial for murder.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 14.—(Special)—For the first time since women have been allowed on murder juries three feminine jurors are being kept together under constant guard together, day and night, cut off from their families and friends, until they have helped decide the fate of a man charged with killing a fellow man. They are the three women in the jury of twelve persons which is trying Judge William H. McGannon, chief justice of the Cleveland, O., municipal courts, charged with murdering Harold Kagi after an automobile ride in May, 1920. It is McGannon's second trial. The jury disagreed the first time. The days are not dragging for the women jurors, they say.

Grand opera, theaters and the high cost of living furnished topics of conversation for the three women. Mrs. Zuleika Allen, Mrs. Hazel McGlynn and Mrs. Rose Bayne. Mrs. Florence Morrison is their ballif. The way they spent one of the early days of the trial is a typical one. Until they retired for the night shortly after 10 o'clock, and for nearly an hour afterward, the three discussed with Mrs. Morrison every phase of grand opera, chatted volubly about current and impending attractions at the local theaters and worried and fretted over the high cost of living just as though they were meeting in the home of one of them for an evening's visit.

To begin with, as soon as court closed for the day, the women jurors, together with the nine men on the jury were taken to a hotel for dinner. From the way in which the three women enjoyed their steaks, the women enjoyed their steaks,

APPROVE FINDING AGAINST PROPERTY REAPPRAISAL HERE

In a resolution passed by the Board of County Commissioners, the finding of County Auditor R. O. Wead against the reappraisal of property in this county this year, was approved.

The report of the Auditor was submitted to the Board some time ago, urging that because of inflated values of real estate now, that the reappraisal be postponed until a later date. In the resolution the board adopted the finding of the Auditor and resolved that there will be no reappraisal in Greene County this year, awaiting action of the State taxation commission.

The Commission recently postponed decision in the matter until March 1, and the expression of Governor Harry L. Davis, that he favored abandonment of the appraisal plan for this year, is thought locally to mean that the plan will not be carried out at least in 1921.

Is It Yours?

THOMAS MALTHUS

February 17, 1766.

The great English economist, Thomas Robert Malthus, was born on a small estate in Surrey, England. His father was a man of good family and independent fortune and a man of great culture, who gave his son every possible educational advantage. Thomas Malthus went to Cambridge, studied for the ministry and took charge of a small parish near his home. He was about 32 years old when he published the first edition of his great work, "An ESSAY ON THE PRINCIPLE OF POPULATION."

This work created a great deal of surprise and started an enormous amount of argument. With characteristic thoroughness Malthus decided to prove his theory in greater detail than he had given it, so he spent several years abroad studying in different countries and every new edition of his essay came out with more notes and more valuable matter. His theory was that a happy state of society will always be hindered by the misery of poorer people, due to the tendency of population to increase faster than the means of feeding it. It was such a new idea that every thinker turned his attention to either for or against it. In the last years, the general opinion had been that it is not true. Malthus married when he was 33 and became a professor of modern history and political economy. His private life was very happy and he died personally much loved. He died suddenly of heart disease in 1834.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians and experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery to others who took up with what might be called marvelous success. After much urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. CEDARVILLE COLLEGE PLANS EXTENSION OF ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

Foundations for greater and more extensive athletic activities at Cedarville College, were laid at a banquet held in the basement of the Reformed Presbyterian Church in Cedarville, Tuesday evening.

There were covers for 10¢ at the chicken dinner served by members of the Ladies' Advisory Board of the College, including among the guests, Cedarville business men, alumni and present students, who are interested in seeing the College increase its scope of athletic activities.

Plans formulated at the meeting include the institution of sports that are not now practiced at the school, either through having been abandoned, or never taken up by the students, and the retention of an experienced athletic adviser and coach. The program promises that the Cedarville school, which it is realized, has been putting mediocre teams in the field, will broaden out into a school able to cope with the athletes of other institutions its size, to increase its enrollment by offering such athletic training to its students, and to give all the students, both boys and girls, the advantage of such training.

For the purpose of carrying out these plans, an executive committee has been appointed consisting of Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of the College, as chairman; Prof. Parker superintendent of the Cedarville schools, secretary; O. S. Smith, treasurer; Walter Huff, Andrew Winter, John Johnson and LaClede Markle, a student. This committee will direct a campaign to provide funds to carry out the athletic program decided upon, and obtain a good physical director and coach to handle athletics at the school starting with the next fall semester, whose duty it will be to insure some physical training for all students.

LaClede Markle, was toastmaster at the banquet held, and a program consisting of readings by Miss Marjorie McClellan and Miss Helen Bradford and musical selections by a quartet consisting of LaClede Markle, Carl Duncan, Morton Cresswell and Harry Wright, entertained during the early part of the evening. Speeches bearing on the plan of athletic broadening, were made by Rev. V. E. Busler, pastor of the Cedarville M. E. Church, Prof. Allen of the College faculty, Wilbur White a student, and Morton Cresswell and S. C. Wright representing the alumni.

Beauty Chats

A STARCH BLEACH

Do you know the value of plain corn starch as an aid to beauty? It is used in a great many ways, and one of them is as a bleach for dark skins, tan, and incidentally to overcome extreme oiliness of the complexion.

You can use either the cornstarch used for cooking or the cheaper lumpy variety that comes for laundry use. Dissolve the starch with a little water, enough to make a paste about the consistency of cream. Wash the face with hot water and a mild complexion soap. Rinse, and then when the skin is dry, use the starch paste.

Rub this thoroughly over the complexion. As it is cheap and easy to make, you can use it on the face, neck and the arms. In a very short time the paste will dry, leaving the skin a dead white and feeling rather taut. As your paste has now become a powder, some of it will drop off, but this need not worry you. After about half an hour, rinse the skin with warm water and dry. If you are very busy, it might be a good idea to put the starch on the skin and let it stay while you go about your household duties.

You can give yourself this treatment every day. However, if you find that the starch dries the skin very much, massage the face with cold cream and stop the treatment for a time. No treatment is valuable that dries up the skin too much.

Mrs. R. H. I. would not advise you to take medicines to reduce. Since you are getting fat, you must eat less too much. It is natural that you should grow stout this year on the same amount of food which last year did not produce flesh. This is because the operation you went through has improved your health so that you get more nourishment from your food.

CANDIES FOR FUDGE PARTIES

Bran Balls—When a child will not eat bran as a breakfast food, make the following candy: Two cups light brown sugar, butter, one-half cup water. Boil till it forms a clean ball in water. Let stand until cool, then add a half box of crumbled bran, cream it and drop off spoon.

Cinnamon Rolls—Four cups of granulated sugar, one and one-half cups milk, butter size of walnut, three tablespoons of white syrup. Boil until it forms a soft ball in water, or 240 degrees Fahrenheit. Set off stove and let cool, then stir until you can't stir any longer. Then knead it in long pieces, roll in cinnamon and sugar in pieces. Nuts may be added if desired. This makes two pounds of delicious candy.

Divinity Kisses—Boil two cups of sugar with one cup of water until the soft ball stage, then add the grated rind and strained juice of one lemon, two ta'ble spoons gelatin, which has been soaking in one-quarter cup of cold water for five minutes, then pour over the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Beat up until light and it begins to harden. Drop from a spoon on greased paper.

marshmallow, being careful not to make a hole quite through it. Fill the cavities thus formed with any good preserved fruit. Make a chocolate fudge and pour it over the marshmallows, which should have been placed on a greased paper in a pan. Be sure the fruit is entirely covered. When cold cut in cakes. These are delicious and will prove an agreeable surprise.

Vanilla Caramels—Place in a saucepan one cup granulated sugar, one-half cup golden corn syrup. Bring to a boil and add two tablespoons of butter. When nearly done add one square of chocolate. Boil to hard ball stage, then flavor with one spoonful of vanilla. Pour into a mold and cut in cubes when cold.

Maple Foam—Take two cups of maple sugar, one cup brown sugar, one-half cup of water and one-quarter teaspoon cream of tartar. Boil to the hard ball stage, then add a dozen marshmallows cut up in bits. Cover and let stand for five minutes, then pour over the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Beat up until light and it begins to harden. Drop from a spoon on greased paper.

VOTE SOUGHT ON PACKER BILL

Washington, Feb. 17.—In an effort to obtain a vote in the house on the packer control bill, proponents of the measure decided to petition the rules committee to call it upon the floor before the end of the session. Petitions were put in a circulation among the state delegations. It was considered doubtful whether such action would sway the rules committee.

The Darky Kids—It is very difficult to bleach a naturally dark complexion. The amid skin bleaches sometimes advised in this column are all helpful. These are the honey almond lotion and cucumber or peroxide cold creams.

Bernice—A very large bust usually means that the whole body is too stout. In this case a general reduction is all you need.

THE WOMAN HE MARRIED

A NEW ACQUAINTANCE

Chapter 93

We had gradually formed a few acquaintances. Among them was a woman who had a bungalow near us—a fascinating, temperamental sort of creature, who attracted and repelled me at the same time. She was effectively blonde, tall and willowy, a dainty creature, yet with something almost cruel lurking in her eyes whenever she raised the thick dark lashes, so unusual with hair so should be interested in each other's work. I never put it on a personal basis.

It took me nearly all my spare time for two months to decorate the bungalow. In that time she and Dick were constantly together. She had taught Junior to call her aunt—Aunt Nita. Her name was Juanita, and before long we both called her so, and she called us Nan and Dick.

Sometimes when she would come over after dinner in some trailing gown that made her even more lovely, I would feel rather out of place in my simple house dress. Then the thought of what clothes had once done to me would make me satisfied again and I would put aside the slightest envious feeling. She could afford to wear those lovely perishable things, I couldn't! So I would dismiss all thoughts of the sort, and not notice how admiringly Dick looked at her.

She wrote queer fantastic tales, weird things that certain magazines occasionally published, and it was through her interest in Dick's work (perhaps a pretended interest, I later thought), that we became acquainted. She soon got into the habit of running over and asking Dick to read her stories, to criticize.

"It is such a joy to have someone tell me where I can improve them," she said to me, and I smilingly agreed. Then after I commenced to fix up her bungalow, she was even more often with Dick, talking over their ideas, comparing notes, et cetera.

Dick seemed to be interested in her, but I laid it all to their similarity of occupation, although she told me she had an income sufficient for her wants had she not sold anything from her pen.

At times they would take long walks. Sometimes I went along, but often they went alone, leaving me busy with her bungalow.

Not a thought of danger in this intimacy entered my mind, not a doubt of Dick's loyalty. Had we known more people, gone out more often, I might have been awakened. But it seemed to me only natural that they

But I would laugh and tell them I had work to do.

"You two scribblers run along and make up stories, while you get the air," I often said, and they would go away together, perhaps to be gone for hours.

But when they returned they invariably told me where they had been talking of their time together so naturally, taking my interest so granted, that I never had the slightest suspicion that I was putting temptation in Dick's way—that he was becoming too fond of Juanita for my happiness.

Yet Dick was only human. And Juanita was very lovely, very fascinating.

You add to it enough syrup or honey to make a pint and you have a family supply of the best cough medicine you ever used. One or two doses usually ends the croaky cough.
